Such evidently imposing quarters ought to lend themselves readily to the skill of the decorator. Miss Newell's pletures were indeed charming to consemplate. Presumably they were accurate, but it would be foolbardy to venture any opinions on the complicated subject of interior decoration. Yet anybody could tell that the frocks were lovely in color and in their roccoomodes contrasted artistically with the Oriental richness of the Persian costumes.

to modern New York. This is a repertoire company, amounting to a stock company and composed of well known players, who will take over the National Theatre after "Main Street" leaves there in a couple of weeks. The new company, to be called the National Players, inc., will include among the leading members George Nash, Miss Charlotte Walker. Wilton Lackaye, Maclyn Arbuckle, Harry Mestayer, Edmund Lowe, Ignacio Martinetti and Miss Carrie Radcliffe.

The bill will be changed every four weeks, with established successes as well as an occasional new play. In making arrangements with the Shubsrts and Walter Jordan for the theatre, the National Players have adopted a reduced scale of prices, selling orchestra seats for Monday and Tuesday evenings and Wednesday matinee performances for $1.50 and balcony seats for $1 and fifty cents. The rest of the week balcony prices remain the same, while the orchestra advances to $2. Augustus Thomas has offered the new organization the use of any of his plays at any time. George Nash, who will direct the first play, made this announcement yesterday on behalf of the players:
